Drawings

1. Figure 1 should be designated by a legend such as --Prior Art-- because only that which is old is illustrated. See MPEP § 608.02(g). Corrected drawings in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The replacement sheet(s) should be labeled "Replacement Sheet" in the page header (as per 37 CFR 1.84(c)) so as not to obstruct any portion of the drawing figures. If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Objections

2. Claim 24 is objected to under 37 CFR 1.75(c), as being of improper dependent form for failing to further limit the subject matter of a previous claim. Applicant is required to cancel the claim(s), or amend the claim(s) to place the claim(s) in proper dependent form, or rewrite the claim(s) in independent form. Claim 24 is identical to Claim 12 from which it depends.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:
 - (a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

4. Claims 1 to 24 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Mori (U.S. Patent No. 6,097,621) and Aton (U. S. Patent Application Publication No. 2002/0130384).

Mori show most aspects of the instant invention (e.g. Figure 3) including:

- A plurality of memory cells 302a-n making a DRAM
- First word lines 310a-c which run divergently from logic area (not shown) in a radial fashion
- Second bit lines 314a-e crossing said first lines with the memory cells at these crosspoints
- Storage capacitors 316a-s being laterally offset on each side of the first lines

Mori does not show the second lines being curved, the word and bit lines reversed and vertical transistors in each memory cell. Aton teaches (e.g. Paragraph [0028]) that word and bit lines may be curved or angled and take on various other configurations. Therefore, it is a designers choice for one of ordinary skill in the art to have the bit and word lines either curved or diverging (i.e. angled). Also, the use of vertical transistors in DRAMs is well known in the art and would be an obvious choice to one of ordinary skill. It would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art at the time of invention to use curved and angled bit and word lines and to use vertical transistors in the art as taught by Aton in the device of Mori sine this would only be a design choice for one of ordinary skill in the art.

Conclusion

5. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Yoshida et al. (U.S. Patent No. 6,166,941) teach to place capacitors in DRAMs on alternate sides of word or bit lines.
6. Paper copies of cited U.S. patents and U.S. patent application publications will cease to be mailed to applicants with Office actions as of June 2004. Paper copies of foreign patents and non-patent literature will continue to be included with office actions. These cited U.S. patents and patent application publications are available for download via the Office's PAIR. As an alternate source, all U.S. patents and patent application publications are available on the USPTO web site (www.uspto.gov), from the Office of Public Records and from commercial sources. Applicants are referred to the Electronic Business Center (EBC) at <http://www.uspto.gov/ebc/index.html> or 1-866-217-9197 for information on this policy. Requests to restart a period for response due to a missing U.S. patent or patent application publications will not be granted.
7. Papers related to this application may be submitted directly to Art Unit 2814 by facsimile transmission. The faxing of such papers must conform with the notice published in the Official Gazette, 1096 OG 30 (15 November 1989). The Art Unit 2814 Fax Center number is (571) 273-8300.
